AFS ENERGY SYSTEMS ANNOUNCES TURNKEY GREEN ENERGY FINANCING PROGRAM FOR PA HIGH SCHOOLS

– Program makes green energy affordable for school districts

Lemoyne, PA (February 8, 2011) – AFS Energy Systems announces a zero capital lease–purchase program for Pennsylvania high schools. With over 20 years experience providing turnkey engineering, manufacturing, installation and support of biomass energy systems for public schools, universities and private schools, AFS has arranged a no capital outlay lease–purchase financing program based on energy savings underwritten as Certificates of Participation (C.O.P.) so as to be excluded from debt limitation and borrowing base calculations under LGUDA standards for Public School Districts.

An initial savings analysis will be performed utilizing three years of energy costs for each location to determine project feasibility. There are no costs associated with this initial evaluation. Once AFS determines a school or school district is a favorable candidate for the program, a Financing Program Representative will contact the school district to initiate the application process.

Contact: Paul Lewandowski at AFS Energy Systems for more information or to schedule an initial evaluation.
